HYACINTHS—Named Single Flowering SELECTED FIRST-SIZE BULBS

The Hyacinth is one of the most beautiful, as well as the most fragrant of the Winter and early Spring-flowering hardy bulbs. For house culture in the Winter there is nothing in cultivation more beautiful, and for the garden in early Spring they deservedly stand foremost in the list of all Spring-flowering bulbs. Hyacinths should be planted 6 to 10 inches apart. They are also adapted for growing in pots or water in the house.

From a long list of named Hyacinths we have selected the following 14 varieties on account of their free-blooming qualities, perfect form and distinct colorings.

SINGLE NARCISSUS, or DAFFODILS

Narcissus are indispensable for Winter use and early Spring flowering. They are perfectly hardy (except Polyanthus), growing and doing well in almost any position, whether in sun or shade, moist or dry. For best effects they should be planted in clumps 6 to 12 inches apart in the hardy borders among the grass, under trees, etc. For blooming in the house during the Winter, all varieties are well adapted, filling the room with their rich fragrance. They are very desirable as cut flowers and will remain perfect in water for days after being cut. In describing Narcissus we have referred to perianth and trumpet, giving the color of each. The trumpet is the center, funnel-like tube and the perianth is the row of petals or wings surrounding it. Our "Bulb Culture" will be sent with every order giving directions for growing all bulbs offered in this and our regular seed book.

Has endured a temperature of 32 degrees below zero.

BLOWERS. An iron clad variety that never winter kills; a mammoth, upright grower; enormously productive. Fruit is large, glossy, firm and luscious. Has proved to be extra good everywhere.

DALLAS. A new blackberry dewberry hybrid of great worth which is proving to be one of the most valuable market sorts as well as one of the best for home use. The cane is short, but very vigorous and productive; perfectly hardy, will stand 14 degrees below zero. The ripening season is early and the fruit extra large and fine. Makes a grand companion for the new McDonald listed below. Perfect flowering.

ELDORADO. Fruit large and of exceptional quality and productiveness. Late.

MCDONALD. This grand, new hybrid blackberry dewberry ripens very early; one week earlier than the Lucretia dewberry. The canes trail the first year, but are strong and upright from the second year on. It is entirely hardy, has stood 14 degrees below zero, and its drought resisting qualities are remarkable. The large, extra fine fruit is of excellent quality. The flower of this variety being pistillate, or imperfect, it should have a staminate, or perfect flowering sort planted with it to pollinate; when thus pollinated, it is exceedingly productive. The Dallas blackberry, listed above, which flowers at the same time, is the best variety to plant (in the proportion of one Dallas to each five McDonald) with it.

WARD. The best; fruit is very large; jet black and of excellent quality. Productive, entirely free from rust.

MAULE'S HARDY ANNUAL FLOWER SEEDS

FOR SUMMER AND FALL BLOOMING

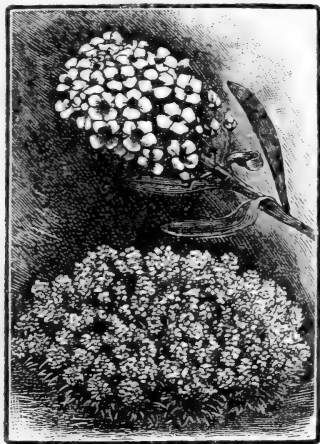

Seeds of many varieties of annuals may be sown in the open ground, several times during the season for a succession of flowers; the following if sown as late as the 15th of July, will flower from September until frost. In the South, they will withstand the Winter if given a slight covering during extreme weather, and furnish earlier and larger blooms than Spring-sown seed.

Maule's Hardy Annuals are easily raised and suitable for many purposes; excellent for cutting; invaluable for bedding, some for color, others for foliage effect. They will always be popular with those who want quick results with the least expenditure of time and money. Plants will flower and die in the one season.

For complete list and full descriptions see our 1923 Seed Book.

Full Cultural Directions are plainly printed on all our flower seed bags.

ONION SEEDS

Culture.—For the south only. Sow in a well-prepared seed bed in August, September or October, and when the plants are the size of a goose quill transplant 4 inches apart in 12-inch rows, trimming the tops and roots. Don't fail to transplant; it is not unusual to double the yield by transplanting. A packet will sow about 50 feet of drill, an ounce about 300 feet, 4 to 5 lbs. of seed per acre. Maturing in 60 to 115 days.

TO RAISE EARLY GREEN ONIONS. In the north seed sown in July to September will usually produce fair size plants, that if given a little protection will survive the Winter and produce nice green Onions earlier than from sets. Silver Skin or White Portugal is the best variety for this purpose.
